TRACEY ENERSON WOOD is a retired registered nurse, published playwright, and an international and USA Today bestselling author of The Engineer's Wife and The War Nurse. Her latest book, The President's Wife, is a sweeping historical novel based on the true story of courageous widow Edith Wilson. The book details her enchanting courtship with President Woodrow Wilson, her steadfast wisdom through World War I, and her unflinching tenacity when she served as secret leader of the United States after her husband suffered from a stroke and was unable to carry out his duties.

The President's Wife shines a light on the brilliant and fascinating woman who made it her mission to protect her sick husband—and her country—at all costs. It is a vivid reimagining of the Wilsons' timeless love story and the birth of their political partnership, as well as a timely and compelling look at the life of a woman who was thrust into something extraordinary and proved she could more than handle the challenge.
